Revelation 1 thru 22 Oct 31 2020 When I began to read Revelation in preparation for writing this book, I would see just how much God loves His people. I had never seen this before in my reading of Revelation. But now as I read, I would let God open my heart for Him to give me His understanding of this amazing book of the Bible. The love of God can so easily get lost in reading the book of Revelation. But as you read Revelation you will see the love of God, the love of Jesus, and what a great God we all serve. So I ask that you read the Holy Bible along with my book to affirm that what you read in my book is in agreement with what it says in the Holy Bible. It is my hope that as you read Revelation you will see the Lord God and Jesus Christ have revealed all we will ever need to know about the end times. It is also my hope that you will get a better understanding of Revelation just as it is written by Saint John the divine, the author of this "wonderful book of God's Word". God has more in store for all believers than we could ever think of for ourselves and it is all in the book of Revelation to read.

Food stores, gone. Ravenous monsters, everywhere. Worst of all, I have to listen to my best bud and his new harem of space cats constantly "repopulate" their species. I swear to god, if I don't find some ear plugs soon, I'm going stick my head in a warp coil. The silver lining to our predicament is that the abandoned facility we found has some sweet tech we might be able to use to escape—assuming we can bring it back online before we're eaten. That said, should this be the end of my epic adventure, always remember: if I die, I want a Viking funeral. A Sucky Love Story Dec 13 2021 Where does a moderately popular internet star who never leaves her house look for potential suitors? Online. Tinder, Bumble, Match.com, OkCupid—I tried them all. My thirty-one-year-old self clicked and swiped her little heart out, leading to more dates than I could count, and more disappointment than I was prepared for. Maybe you can relate. Maybe you know all too well the perils of modern dating. But let's say, eventually, you meet someone. You think to yourself, "Wow, they're perfect! Take me off the market, put a ring on it, knock me up, the whole enchilada, because they are 'the one.'" Let's also say that they "feel the same way" about you. Your life starts to make sense! All the pain, heartbreak, and frustration from past failed relationships was worth it. Slow clap. That's how I felt about Milos. He was from Europe, a doctor, wealthy, athletic. He had an accent and a dog. Milos was textbook marriage material. For him it was "love at first sight," but for me, it was "anxiety on every date." Something was telling me to run—but for two years, the only running I did was straight into his arms. If only I would have listened. This isn't a love story. It's my story of survival.

Silence in Numbers Sep 29 2020 Author Jake Taylor brings a fresh approach with the first in the series, Silence In Numbers: File One. Written in a style similar to Anime, with emphasis on the characters and fast-paced dialogue and action, it's an intense science fiction story that is at times humorous, at others dark...but always entertaining. WHAT DETERMINES THE VALUE OF A SECRET? It's 2068, Tokyo, Japan. The inevitable has happened and the world has been privatized, from governments to militaries. The benefits of this are great, with the rapid advancement of cybernetics - but the true downside of giving total control to corporations has yet to be seen. Secrets, however, are the way of things, and there are things in the world that are kept secret for a reason... Katsumi Samakura, an experienced and cybernetically-enhanced soldier, deals with these secrets as the leader of SIN Unit 1, a task force that faces the most violent terrorist, paranormal and supernatural threats. Most days, the only thing that keeps her sane is her relationship with her sister, Ayane, with whom she shares a mysterious illness and whom she will protect at all costs. But there are worse ghosts than the incorporeal entities she fights, and a dangerous situation with an enemy who uses humans as living bombs gets worse when the one man the sisters hate most - their father- reappears in pursuit of a sadistic and unknown goal. "That... is creepy as hell," Reno muttered as he stared up at the huge old house. "That thing is ancient! Who keeps these around? Shouldn't they be torn down to prevent freaky ghost possession?" Katsumi smiled as she stepped up beside him, sipping from a cup of coffee. "Most people don't know 'freaky ghost possession' exists, Reno, you know that. Besides, not every old house is haunted." "No, just all the ones we visit." Rufus appeared at Katsumi's other side, looking up at the place himself. "So what terrifying history does tonight's home have?" "I'm glad you asked," she replied as she studied the front of the house. "Murder, of course." "Obviously." "But there's a twist. This murder was supposedly committed by the children." Reno looked at her incredulously. "You're kidding. Are we actually going to be facing little child ghosts? Are we really going to be facing creepy little children ghosts?!" Kurasano popped up on the other side of him. "It gets better," he grinned, "they were never found. And the lead investigator on the case went missing soon after as well, as did his replacement." "Okay, that's cool, hey I'm gonna head back to HQ, but you guys lemme know how it went, alright? And make sure you tell me how you responded when they asked you to play with them forever and ever and ever." Reno spun around to walk away but Katsumi's hand caught his shirt, hauling him back. "Not so fast." "Aww, c'mon, boss, I'm just the pilot! I can't pilot anything inside a house!" "That is indeed true, which is why you'll be outside...You two keep track of us; Law, monitor human activity near and within the house. Reno, you're watching spiritual activity. Stay in communication and let us know any important readings as always." Katsumi gestured to Kurasano and Rufus. "Let's go." She reached for the door, watching it shimmer as she took hold of the handle and pulled it open. Gaping darkness greeted them and the three walked in without hesitation, disappearing from sight as the door shut behind them. Immediately Reno and Law clapped their hands to their ears and tore off their headsets as intense static feedback nearly deafened them. Reno glared at his headset and held it away from him like a bad-smelling piece of garbage, still able to hear the static. "What the hell?!" "Reno..." Law interrupted, pointing to one of the computers. "We've got a problem." The screen was flashing a continual warning, showing three blinking dots just beyond the door with two words flashing above them: CONNECTION LOST.
